

Logic Assignment – Set the table for dinner

Step 1: I need to set the table so it can be prepared by dinner.

Step 2: What is the event? What type of food is going to be served? How many people are going? Do I need specific decorations?

Step 3: Look into: if it's a specific event (Christmas, thanksgiving, etc.), who is going, what is being served at dinner.

Step 4: Information I need to know: how many people will be sitting at the table, how many courses will be served

Step 5: I am having dinner with my family. We're a family of four and our meal consist of ceasar salas, spaghetti and meatballs and vanilla ice cream

Step 6: Tonight, I will have a Sunday dinner with my family, so I have to set the table for a party of four. My mom prepared a Caesar salad as an appetizer, spaghetti and meatballs as an entrée, and a vanilla ice cream for dessert.

Step 7: I'm going to set the table for a party of four and will make sure I git enough tableware for a three-course dinner.
