

Heryenid Reyes Rosario

Professor Droescher

Eco 325000

September 14, 2024

Step 1: I need clean clothes that are appropriate for my activities for the day.

Step 2: What events am I going to? Is there a dress code? What are the activities I will be doing? What is the weather? Would I be seeing anyone in particular?

Step 3: Look at my itinerary, where I'm going, dress codes, who I'm interacting with, what I am doing, weather.

Step 4: Information I need to know: dress code, weather, events

Step 5: This weekend I am planning on going to the gym, grocery store, staying home, and a graduation party. Turns out I will need activewear, loungewear, and casual outfit.

Step 6: This weekend I am going to the gym at 7am, coming home to shower and then relax for a bit. Afterwards I am going to the grocery store to buy some ingredients for a buffalo chicken dip that I will be bringing to the graduation party later that night. Therefore, I will need to do laundry because I will be wearing multiple outfits that day.

Step 7: I will do my laundry because I need my activewear, loungewear, and a casual outfit for my activities for the day.